

The North Face 2007 Image Library Photo Usage Regulations

Carefully read the terms and conditions of this agreement before making any use of the photographs (the "Photographs") in this image library. Use of these images indicates your acceptance of the following terms and conditions.

The Photographs are the property of the photographer(s) identified on the Web site and/or in this document who have given The North Face certain rights to be extended to our dealers only. Any uses of the Photographs beyond those expressed herein must be negotiated with the Photographer(s).

Photographs have been contracted with the photographer(s) by The North Face, however, The North Face provides no warranties either expressed or implied that the Photographs are the exclusive property of the identified photographer(s) or that the photographer(s) have the right to authorize the reproduction or other use of the Photographs as provided herein.

The terms and conditions are as follows:

- The Photographs are for the exclusive use by The North Face dealers only for local advertising, in-store graphics, slide presentations and promotional events.
- All use of Photographs is to be accompanied by an approved The North Face logo and photographer credit, both of which are included on the Web site and/or this document (see following pages).
- Use of photography is considered the viewing time for publications and local advertising. For example, the viewing time for print publications starts on the "on sale" date and ends on the next issue "on sale" date where the image does not appear. In the case of other printed pieces [such as in-store graphics and flyers], photo usage is considered the date of print production.
- The right to use Photographs does not extend to their reproduction in national publications.
- Photographs may only be reproduced over the Internet for online catalogue use. Photographs may not be employed for Internet advertising.
- Photographs cannot be reproduced or used for independent public relations or by media.
- Photographs cannot be reproduced or used for any purpose by anyone other than The North Face dealers.
- The North Face does not have exclusive rights to Photographs. Any use that extends outside the terms and conditions of this agreement will be the responsibility of dealers to negotiate with photographer(s) directly to arrange for extended usage. The North Face will provide Photographer(s) contact information upon request.
